

A Social Program

To enhance the lives of individuals living with memory loss

partners in the arts for people with dementia

Partners in the Arts is a program designed for individuals in the early stages of dementia and their care partners to participate in community activities that are adjusted to meet their needs. Families have the freedom to enjoy the activity or event while in compassionate company and with peace of mind.

Painting Expressions Program

The creative process offers an improved quality of life and a potential for self-expression for people living with early-stage Alzheimer's and their caregivers.

Both will develop their own approach to art while exploring color, composition and painting techniques with acrylic paints while being guided by an experienced teacher and artist. Students will take short tours of the Delaplaine Center's galleries for inspiration and information.

Cost: $30 for arts series

Space is extremely limited. Registration is required.
